Together for Rural Mission

Your church can help another church reach its community.

Rural churches are a vital part of our communities, bringing hope, belonging and the good news of Jesus to places that matter. Rural Missions exists to support them. We invite your church to partner with us, so that together we can encourage, equip and pray for rural churches as they seek to reach their communities with the love of Christ.

Helping people find and follow Jesus

Every rural church has its own story, context and opportunities. As an independent, ecumenical charity, Rural Missions works alongside churches across Christian traditions, listening, praying and helping them discover opportunities for mission within their communities. Through shared experience, encouragement and practical support, we help churches take their next steps with confidence, always respecting their unique calling and local context.

Practical support for local mission

Free consultations
Our friendly, tailor-made consultations help churches explore their community, identify opportunities and plan next steps for mission.

Networks that encourage
We bring rural church leaders and teams together through online forums and local connections to share experience, learn from one another and find encouragement for the journey.

Training and resources
Practical tools, training and adaptable resources help churches explore fresh possibilities for mission and grow in confidence.

Support for children, youth and families
Through The Resources Cupboard, we provide resources, training and networks to help churches nurture faith and make young disciples in their communities.

Stronger rural churches. Brighter communities. Together for rural mission.

Ways your church can partner

Monthly giving as part of your mission budget
Regular giving helps us plan ahead and provide ongoing support to rural churches throughout the year.

An annual mission gift
Make Rural Missions one of your church's mission partners, helping us equip and encourage more churches in their communities.

A single gift or special collection
A single gift or special collection can help us respond to opportunities and provide practical support where it is needed.

Your generosity helps keep our support free.
Every consultation, network, training opportunity and resource is offered to churches without charge. Your partnership helps make that possible, ensuring that cost is not a barrier to rural mission.

What you can expect from us

We want this to be a genuine partnership in mission, not simply a financial commitment.
As a church mission partner, you can expect us to:

1. Pray for your church
Regularly praying for your congregation, community and mission.
2. Walk alongside you
Offering free consultations, resources, networks and practical support, just as we do for every rural church.
3. Keep you connected
Providing quarterly updates with fresh stories, videos and prayer points that you can share with your congregation.
4. Help you share the vision
Providing presentation slides, videos, giving forms and other materials, or arranging for someone from Rural Missions to speak at your church, subject to availability.

Our support is freely available to rural churches, whether or not they are able to give.
Your partnership helps us keep it that way.
